Bivins Charged In One Of Three Saturday Robberies

Charges were filed Monday by Sheriff Carl C. Black against Edkar Bivins, colored, for the Saturday night robbery of Kohutek's Service Station.

Bivins, a daytime helper at the service station, was picked up after investigators from the State Department of Public Safety found his fingerprints on the window and desk where the robbery was committed.

After questioning, Bivins signed a confession in the presence of County Attorney J. W. Miller, admitting burglary. $134 was recovered from beneath an old ice box in Bivins' yard.

Bivins had gained entrance Saturday night to the private office through a small window in the back while the night attendant was on duty at the front of the station. He pried the lock from the desk and took the currency inside, leaving checks and coins. Also left undisturbed was a new pistol and holster.

Two more robberies took place on Saturday night. They were at the 77 Drive-In Theater and at the Marek and Ermis Service Station.

At the 77 Drive-In the only money taken was from the cigarette machine. According to the management of the theater, there could not have been over two or three dollars in the machine at the time. The main loss from the robbery was damage to the machine.

The same was true at the Marek-Ermis Service Station. The burglars gained entrance by removing the hinges from the door. They went in, broke open the cigarette machine and took the money out.

Hearne Resident Is Electrocuted While Repairing TV Antenna

James Collins, 41, of Hearne was killed about 1:30 p. m. Saturday while repairing his television antenna. He climbed the 35 foot antenna wearing a safety belt and carrying an electric drill over his shoulder. Part way up the aerial, the drill shorted out, electrocuting him.

Will Harlock, his next-door neighbor, said Collins yelled to him once for help and then slumped over, held by the safety belt. Members of the Hearne Fire Department and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company brought Collins down from the roof and tried unsuccessfully to revive him with a respirator. Dr. T. A. Searcy, health official, stated death was due to electrocution.

Drilling of Gause Well Spurs Milam Oil Leasing Toward All Time High

Oil leasing in Milam County is racing toward an all-time high since drillers completed the county's first deep test for oil near Gause. However, nobody yet knows what the results of that test were.

This mystery well, drilled by D. H. Byrd of Dallas west of Gause, went past 8,000 feet. Then oil operators from West Texas, North Dakota, and Louisiana began appearing all over the county, and leasing of the land began on a wide scale.

Most of the leasing has been for $5 to $10 an acre, but some has been reported to be as high as $45 and $60 an acre.

D. H. Byrd of Dallas has been running production tests at the dual discovery well in Milam County 3½ miles west of Gause. It is the No. 1 Lucinda Greene, W. D. Thompson and A. J. Watts survey, which is making gas and distillate from the upper Glen Rose from 6,245-6,316 feet and upper Pettit from 7,682-7,700 feet. Hole was drilled to 8,210 feet, or 290 feet into Travis Peak.

Estimated open flow from the Glen Rose was between 2,000,000 and 6,000,000 feet of gas daily with an ungauged amount of distillate. From the upper Pettit it was estimated good for between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day with an unestimated amount of distillate. Both zones were still cleaning up. Flow pressure on the Pettit was 2,500 pounds on 12-64-inch choke and pressures ranged from 1,055 pounds on 10-64-inch choke on the Glen Rose.

The new discovery is the result of over 10 years exploration and the expenditure of nearly $1,000,000 in the area. Three failures were drilled before getting the producer. Operators hold leases totaling approximately 10,000 acres in the area.

It is estimated that about 30,000 acres of land have been leased in the vicinity of the Gause well. County records show that much of the land was leased by Byrd, driller of the well; R. E. Smith of Houston, H. H. Coffield of Rockdale; General Union Producing Company of Shreveport; General Crude and Warren Petroleum Company of Corpus Christi; and Skelley Oil Company.

Soil Conservation Districts Urge Individual Planning

Central Texas and Taylor Soil Conservation Districts are urging Soil Conservation Service Technicians assigned to their Districts to concentrate on individual farm conservation planning for the next few months while crops are growing on the land and little conservation work requiring technical assistance is being done.

Farm planners working in the Cameron area will arrange their schedules to work with all owners or operators who need planning assistance in their soil conservation work, whether it may be in one field or for the entire farm.

The primary objective of the Texas Soil Conservation Districts and also the U. S. Department of Agriculture is to give all the land the treatment that it needs and to use each acre of land according to its capabilities.

Most recent land owners to join with the districts in carrying out their objectives are Clayton Barton, Ray A. Tucker, O. W. Whittington, M. J. Sparks, and H. L. Yager of the Central Texas District. Erskin McDermott has joined with the Taylor District. These farmers have taken the first steps toward a complete conservation job on their land. The next stop will be a soil inventory, then, as the farmer is ready, he will progress to a completed conservation program on his land living it the treatment that it needs and using it to produce at its highest capability without causing damage to the land.

NOTES BY ROY WRIGHT
County Supervisor

DAIRYMEN: It is silage making time. No less than three tons of silage should be put up for each cow in the dairy herd and it is a good idea t put up 4 or 5 tons per cow to take care of the lean and poor feed crop years. Silage must be planted, harvested, and stored before it can be used. If hegari or atlas sargo has been planted for silage, then it must be properly harvested and stored. A good trench silo for the Dairyman is a fine investment.

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Marlow is trying to be helpful on the cattle price situation, but we can't see that he succeeds.

Dear editar:

I have been reflectin on the cattle market situation out here, and as you know the market has been pretty rough, not only on the cattlemen but also the bankers, as any banker who had a hundred dollars loaned on a two hundred dollar cow is now about in the cattle business with a seventy-five dollar cow and the grazing around most banks I've been in is pretty short.

Naturally, somebody ought to come to the rescue of us cattlemen and bankers, especially us cattlemen, and I don't know of anybody who's better equipped or had more experience than the government in Washington.

Now I've been thinkin over how the government can do it, and it's not easy. A price support deal on grass might help, and I suppose there are experts in Washington who could work out a system where Bermuda grass could be supported at so much, Johnson grass at so much, needle grass at so much, etc., but the thing will be complicated as there's not much way to determine "how much grass a pasture has been producin over the years, except to take my word for it, and some experts might not consider that reliable evidence. I always judge my pasture by the shape of my cows, when the bones begin showin I know the grass is playin out and if a neighbor's fence doesn't give before long the situation will get serious.

But the best system I've figured out is just a price support program for the cattle themselves. You buy a good Jersey steer for 18 cents a pound and keep it a year and sell it for 8 cents and there ain't no way on earth to come out ahead without goin through Washington and pickin up something on the way, and when it comes to a choice, Washington goin in the hole or me, I always figured Washington was designed to bear the brunt.

Naturally, the program is gonna have to be a little different from the price support program for grain or cotton. The government can buy grain and hold it for a better price, but you try storing a cow and you run into all kinds of complications.

But I believe Washington can do it, and if it can't, that's Washington's worry, not mine

I hope Congress will turn up the air conditioning and really give some heavy thought to this problem. Me and my cows can't hold out much longer.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Watermelons in Texas
J. D. Moore, County Agent

In Texas early season estimates were up to 134,000 acres planted. Unfavorable weather conditions including drouth, floods, hails and high winds have occurred in nearly every producing area so that it is impossible to determine just what the ultimate volume and marketing situation will be.

At any rate, each acre has its immediate problems. Be on defective melons should be removed leaving two or three of the best melons on each vine (one vine per hill). Pruning causes all the vigor of the vine to go into the development of the two or three melons resulting in large, well shaped marketable melons.

Growers in early proucing areas have, during the past several seasons, shipped too many immature or partially ripened melons. There is a tendency on the part of growers in all areas to "start" the season by harvesting the first shipments four to five days before they are fully mature. The marketing of such melons has without question brought the growers high prices for the melons actually sold. However, this practice reduces demand, causes losses to receivers and retailers and results immediately in lower prices being paid at shipping point and to Texas growers for subsequent production.

the lookout for cucumber beetles. Anyone of the following materials may be used effectively: 5% methoxychlor dust, 1½ to 3% lindane or 1% parathion dust.

In the face of possible overproduction and marketing difficulties, small melons may be a "drug-on-the-market." It is, therefore, very important that growers carry out a rigid pruning program to insure having medium to large size melons to offer. The strongest demand and highest prices are generally paid for watermelons weighing 34 pounds and up. All poorly shaped and

What is the most valuable thing General Electric ever built?

Is it the jet engine? In 1942, General Electric gave America's air arm its first jet muscles. Would you say that is our most valuable product?

Or would you elect the fluorescent lamp? We placed the first ones on sale in 1938. With the growth of fluorescent lighting Americans are using 3½ times more light than even 10 years ago.

Maybe you would say our star performer is the steam turbine. All you do is flip a switch, and a turbine somewhere instantly responds to provide the power to pump for you, or push or lift.

How about x-ray? Your doctor holds a negative up to the light and peers at bones he says are really yours. Who can say how many lives the x-ray tube has saved?

Important as these products are, more valuable to us—and to you—is something these products have helped to build. Something born quietly in 1878, when electricity was still a curious toy. And something that has grown steadily through the years.

The most valuable thing we ever built is your good will. For your year-after-year confidence in the things we make has given us the means to serve you better. Better engineering, research, manufacturing—all have come from your belief in us. It returns to you in a constantly improving and expanding way of life.

THE ONLY ORGANIC BOLL WEEVIL POISON THAT:

(1) is officially recommended—the only one— in the Lower Rio Grande Valley after migration. Last year when weevil migration was the worst in this area's history . . . dieldrin saved many acres of Texas cotton from total destruction.

(2) gives the highest boll weevil kill during mid and late season. Not only that . . . dieldrin is deadly against weevils and most other cotton pests all season long; dieldrin-DDT mix is the superior commercial control for both boll weevil and bollworm.

(3) has long residual action. No other cotton poison lasts as long even under normal conditions. Research has proved that no other poison can equal dieldrin's lasting control in hot, dry, windy areas. Even rain has less effect on dieldrin's killing power than on other poisons.

(4) represents top performance. Research and experience show dieldrin is superior in killing weevils, just like dieldrin-DDT is tops in controlling bollworms, particularly under extreme climatic conditions. That's why in the Lower Rio Grande Valley where boll weevil is traditionally tough, dieldrin is the only organic poison officially recommended after weevil migration.

KIT JOY ROBBED A TRAIN TO GET MONEY TO SEE THE WORLD

Kid Joy was a lonely cowboy—who actually was lonely. His big passion was to see the bright lights of San Francisco and bask in the gay life there. And to get there he boarded a train—but just long enough to rob it. Instead of his ill-gained money taking him there it prevented him from seeing his dream city.

Joy was a Southwest Texas cowboy who had a chance to make something out of himself if he could have left well enough alone. Before he was old enough to vote, his fun - making escapades had alienated him from the affections of his Texas neighbors. Such gags as shooting out lights in saloons, and "shelling up settlements" were, to him, nothing more than a sporting event and the display of the admirable art of marksmanship — a natural and wholesome way for a range man to amuse himself when in town. The townspeople however, failed to share his point of view, and told him so in such a pointed way as to hurt his feelings. Whereupon, after pronouncing them too droll and unimaginative for a person of his high spirits, he crossed the state line into New Mexico seeking more compatible company.

Kit took a job as a cowboy on a ranch on the Gila River west of Silver City. Here he made a reputation as a hard riding cowhand who never complained nor shirked a duty. He spent his salary of thirty - five dollars a month spreeing in Silver City. But thirty-five dollars did not go very far for one of Kit Joy's fun-loving capacity.

At the railroad station he watched the passengers of the Overland Express unload for supper—well-dressed ladies and gentlemen with fancy clothes and glittering gems. He calculated that no lesser place than San Francisco could turn out such magnificence. There must be hundreds of saloons, and more "slick gals there than his ranch had heifers," fine wine to drink and delicious food to eat. What a wide swath a fellow of his taste could cut in a town like that! But it would surely cost a heap of money—just for one week there.

He tried to dismiss the thought, but everytime he saw the gay, richly-clad passengers alight from the trains, the old passion to shine in the glamorous city came back to him. As he fought the flies and dust of the range, his loneliness consumed him.

He had been slapping his boss's brand on mavericks. He considered doing the same thing for himself to get a start. But that was impracticable, if he was going that route he might as well rustle. But even that seemed too slow. From the looks of the passengers, it would take a lot of money to cut a shine in 'Frisco.

Then these very passengers gave him an idea for a solution. Why not rob a train? These travelers, he figured, had a lot more money than they needed. From slapping the wrong brand on a calf to robbing a train did not appear a long step. He explained his plan to a couple of sympathetic cowboys.

At a little station of Gage, he and three companions held up the Southern Pacific about dusk one evening. They rifled the express and mail cars, and made willing contributors of the "fancy dressed" passengers. Then they headed for the rough hill country up the Miembres, cached their loot, and shortly after midnight were nonchalantly bucking a monte game in Silver City.

The next day the robbers rode quietly out of town and joined their outfits. Kit would have to delay his trip to 'Frisco until the excitement could blow over.

The sheriff, Harvey Whitehill, could find no one — until one day while riding across the plain he found a scrap of a Kansas newspaper. He emembered that a certain merchant in Silver City once lived in the town where the paper was published and was doubtless a subscribed. He rode back to town, and found out from the merchant that, about the time of the robbery, he had sold some provisions to a Negro named Cleveland, accompanied by a white man he did not know. He had wrapped the purchase in a piece of newspaper.

Whitehill found Cleveland, got the drop on him — and a complete confession of the robbery. Joy and his other two companions were promptly jailed. But a few weeks later, the four robbers with two other prisoners broke jail.

In a desperate gun battle, Cleveland was shot through the head. The two other associates were captured and lynched. Only Kit escaped. Kit most likely could have mounted a horse and have ridden out of the country and escaped for good. But he was determined to reposses his treasure, and see the world with it.

One day he hailed an "old friend" who returned his greeting with a rifle bullet that shattered his right leg.

Joy had found the ranges of Texas and New Mexico too prosaic for his adventurous blood. But fourteen years in the prison at Santa Fe "settled him down quite a bit," and completely spoiled his taste for trains—either as a passenger or as a robber. He philosophized in his later days that sometimes a fellow can want something "too much." Kit never considered himself a badman at one time, he "shore had a hankering to do 'Frisco proper.'

Two Transfers, One Re-Enlistment in Local Guard Unit

By Lloyd Albertson

An estimated $2,500 in checks was received Saturday morning by officer and enlisted personnel of the local National Guard unit, Battery C. 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion.

The amount was in payment for drills during the last regular pay period. It was in addition to the $1,196.54 for extra weekend drills which members of Battery C received about two weeks ago.

Another recent development reported by the Battery was the transfer of two enlisted men from a Taylor, Texas, Guard unit into the organization, plus one re-enlistment.

Transferring were Pvts. Curtis Rhodes, Jr. and Donald W. Culp. They reside near Cameron, and both are employed at Alcoa in Rockdale.

The re-enlistment was made by Cpl. Milush J. Kostiha who signed for another three-year term. Kostiha, a farmer, is assigned to the Battery's Gun section.

Three more applications for enlistment into the Battery are being processed at this time, it also was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sapp and children, of Corpus Christi, are here for a few days visit with his mother, Mrs. Pope Sapp, and will visit in Tennessee with relatives before returning home. Clayton is a native of Cameron and has many friends here.

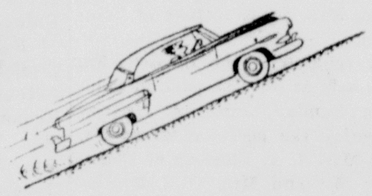
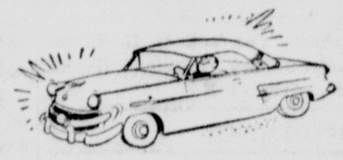
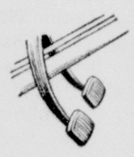
Ford's New Wonder Ride
Test Drive a '53 Ford on the roughest, bumpiest road you know—and you'll think it's been "repaved!" Ford proves that a car need not have gas-eating weight and hard-to-park length to give you a smooth, easy ride.

Choice of Power
Ford alone in the low-price field offers you the smooth power of a V-8 engine . . . or so modern a Six. And both deliver hill-leveling "go!" Ford's Automatic Power Pilot automatically adjusts carburetion, ignition and combustion to make every drop of regular gas work its heart out.

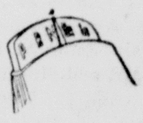


Crestmark Bodies
There's real "build" beneath the style-setting beauty of Ford's Crestmark Bodies. And where you'd expect to find rust-catching cracks—you'll find smooth, welded seams. Weather and dirt don't have an "in" anywhere! Then, too, extensive sound insulation lets you ride in 12 quiet.





Suspended Pedals
They work easier and make foot space of the entire floor space. Suspended brake and clutch pedals also are a "no entrance" sign to dirt and drafts . . . and make the floor much easier to keep clean.



Fordomatic Drive
Fordomatic gives you the fast "up-and-away" starts of automatic gears plus the amazing smoothness of a torque converter. And with Fordomatic you can easily "rock out" of snow and mud.

Center-Fill Fueling
Another "Worth More" feature that many more costly cars still don't have! It saves fill-up time and trouble, ends "hose strafe" on fenders. And a short fill-pipe gives you extra luggage space.

Full-Circle Visibility
Ford gives you the "wide open" view you need for today's faster moving traffic. A curved, one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and big side windows really "let in the scenery," help you drive safely and easily.

With 41 "Worth More" features,
Ford's worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.

Fordomatic Drive optional at extra cost.

Nine Milam 4-H Boys Make Good Records In Swine Raising

Nine Milam 4-H boys made good records with their swine demonstrations this spring, according to J. D. Moore, county agent.

The highest litter weight record was made by Carroll Wayne Jungmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jungmann of the Yarrellton community. Carroll Wayne made his record with a registered Duroc gilt sponsored by the Milam County Farm Bureau. His gilt farrowed nine pigs on February 20 and raised all nine pigs. At 56 days of age the nine pigs weighed 483 pounds for an average of 53¾ pounds per pig. His sales were also tops.

There were 4 gilts in the litter. He had agreed to give a choice gilt back to the Milam County Farm Bureau's program. He sold them an extra gilt for $15 as a replacement gilt. He sold another to the county Sears program for $25 and kept the fourth gilt which is worth $25. Carroll Wayne sold a male pig out of the litter to Waller county for $35.

In addition to the $75 cash sales, he figures the 5 pigs he has on hand are worth $125 now making a gross of $200 from this one litter. Of course he still has the registered sow he values at $100. A $300 gross from the first litter starting with a $15 gilt pig is a good record for any swine demonstration.

Other swine records are:

NAME	F.	R.	Wt.
Carroll Jungmann	9	9	483
Carroll Glaser	13	9	405
Lawrence Klement	13	11	386
David Barkemeyer	12	9	380

Dwayne Juergens	11	10	318
Johnny Gelner	8	7	368
Clifford Morgan	12	10	286
Paul Winkler	11	9	232

Other out of county registered swine sales made by the 4-H'ers were: Two gilts to Williamson County by Clifford Morgan and Charles Baring for $25 each. Three gilts to Washington county by Mary E. Richter for $90, one gilt sold by Mary went to Waller county for $25; Johnny Gelner sold Waller county two gilts for $25 each and Carroll Wawne Jungmann sold Waller county a male pig for $35.

The Milam County Sears Swine program is sponsored by the Waco Sears Store.

4-Cent Stamp For First Class Mail Possible In Fall

Washington, June 15.—Postmaster General Summerfield will ask for an increase in postal rates in an effort to wipe out a $594,250,000 deficit facing the Postoffice Department.

This was disclosed by Republican congressional leaders after their weekly conference Monday with President Eisenhower at the White House.

Summerfield sat in on the meeting.

House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts said Summerville hopes that rate increases, if Congress grants them, will go into effect next Oct. 1.

Martin said Summerfield probably would recommend an increase in virtually all rates from first class mail down. The request presumably will be for increase from three to four cents in the cost of mailing a first class letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Little Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

By Mrs. R. L. Batte

On June 10, 1953 the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Little was celebrated in the Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church, Cameron. The hours were from 4 to 7.

Mr. Little was born in Nixon Springs, Merengo, County, Ala., October 2, 1880. His father, Jessie Little, and his mother, Mary Elizabeth Johnson Little reared a family of ten children. There are two sisters and two brothers living today.

Julia Cox Little, was born in Randolph, Bibb County, Ala., July 28, 1883. Her father was Andrew Jasper Cox of Cox, Ala., and her mothre was Alice B. Jackson Cox, of Maplesville, Ala.

When Thomas Lee Little was nine years of age, his parents moved to the North Elm community. Julia Cox, afterwards Mrs. Thomas Lee Little, came to Texas to visit her grandmother and met Mr. Little. Both fell in love, and after a courtship of 18 months, were married in North Elm Baptist Church at eight o'clock, Wednesday night, June 10, 1903. Their wedding flowers were white oleanders and Mrs. Little's wedding gown was of white satin with a train.

These good people came out of Christian homes, each working in his or her respective churches. Mr. Little has served as deacon and in the Sunday School of his Church, which was Baptist. Mrs. Little helped in the Methodist Church, looking after many young preachers and doing all she could for her church. In 1931, Mr. Little, joined the Methodist Church with his wife.

The Wesley class of First Methodist Church helped to plan and sponsor this delightful golden wedding celebration. The entertainment committee wore white carnations, gifts of the Littles. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Bill Alex Bonds and Mrs. Leland Green, Sr.

Standing together in a bower of lovely flowers and greenery with tall flower baskets on either side, were the radiant bride and groom Mrs. Little wore a dark dress with a lace collar and an orchid corsage, made by Mrs. Glass. Her smile was as radiant as the sun, itself. Mr. Little was handsome in a tailored suit. He wore a gold carnation boutonierre.

After the guests had greeted the honorees, they were asked to sign the guest book, which lay on a lace cloth with flowers for decoration. Those in charge of the book were Mrs. W. A. Robinson and Mrs. Alice Pugh, the first hour, Mrs. Lena Baskin and Mrs. Lelia Batte, the second hour, Mrs. M. M. Johnson and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp from six until seven.

The lovely tea table, overlaid with a lace cloth, bore at one end a punch bowl of golden punch, in the middle, a lovely arrangement by Mrs. Glass of golden gladioli, and at the other end, the white wedding cake artistically decorated with living yellow gladioli. Mrs. Oscar Patillo made this beautiful cake.

In serving the punch, Mrs. Bob Terry, Mrs. J. W. Kemp, Mrs. O. B. Horstmann and Mrs. Roy Griffith alternated. In serving the cake, Mrs. Alice Mitchell, Mrs. A. M. Horstmann, Mrs. Hugo Slaughter and Mrs. Gertrude Vidler assisted. Mrs. R. B. Rylander and Mrs. J. C. Mayfield invited the guests to the tea table.

Flowers were every where in artistic display. The spirit of old and new friends greeting each other amid such pleasing surroundings made relaxation and enjoyment most delightful. After they were served, guests were seated in chairs along the walls of the Fellowship Hall. There they could chat and enjoy the music, played continuously by Mrs. Mark Magers and Miss Susan Rosson.

Mrs. Magers sang in her own gracious way, "At Dawning." She played the First Nocturne dedicating it to Mr. and Mrs. Little. Instrumental music played by Miss Rosson included, "Schubert's Serenade", "Claire de Lune", "Chopin's Nocturne", First movement Beethoven's "Moonlight Sontata" and others.

Carroll Green, Jr., captivated the guests when he sang, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," very beautifully done. Miss Billie Nell Johnson sang sweetly "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Shirley Horstmann sang "I Love You Truly" and "The End of a Perfect Day," as only Miss Horstmann can sing. Little Carol Ann Wilson sang, "Because of You" and sang very sweetly. Mrs. Magers accompanied all of the soloists.

As a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Little, the entire group sang, "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet."

Picture were made of the happy pair and well wishes given to them by all.

More than one hundred guests attended this most pleasurable occasion when two joyous people looked back over 50 years of life together and were happy as they faced the future.

$51,500,000 Given To March of Dimes For 1953 Polio Fight

Eighty million Americans contributed $51,500,000 to the fight against infantile paralysis in the 1953 March of Dimes, it has been anncunced by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This total, based on reports from 3,069 volunteer campaign chairmen, represents a new record, being 24% higher than the previous record total raised in 1952, Mr. O'Connor said. Last year $41,432,605 was contributed, or 27½ cents per capita for the entire nation. The 1953 per capita is 34 cents. Both figures are based on the 1950 census.

"The new record shows that millions of parents and children who fight against polio realize the crucial stage of this battle has been reached," said Mr. O'Connor. "They know that recent progress in scientific research and the continuing increase year after year of polio cases make their responsibilities greater than ever before."

Mr. O'Connor paid tribute to the 2,000,000 March of Dimes volunteers who conducted the fund-raising crusade in 100,000 communities throughout the nation.

Billion Dollar Bill For Agriculture Is Passed by Senate

Washington, June 15. — The Senate passed a $1,200,000,000 agriculture money bill after wearing down a Democratic-sponsored move to tack 30 million dollars onto the 195 million authorized by the House for the government's farm conservation program.

The effort to hike the conservation payments lost by a 38-to-38 vote with most Republicans standing firm against it on economy grounds. Democrats said the outcome might help them win farm votes and recapture control of Congress next year.

Although the vote was a tie, the move went down to defeat under Senate rules requiring a majority of those voting to approve an amendment.

As passed by the Senate the bill contains $716,779,768 for regular activities of the Agriculture Department in fiscal 1954 starting July 1.

It also carries $206,562,000 of permanent authorizations for various farm programs and 275 millions for cancellation of Commodity Credit Corporation notes.

Mrs. Rex D. Brown, Jr. and son, Dwight, of Longview, Texas are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Shuffield.

Miss Ora Lee Peeples, Mr. Edmond Lindholm United In Marriage

In a simple and lovely wedding Friday morning, June 5, at 10 o'clock Miss Ora Lee Peeples was united in marriage to Edmond Lindholm.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon M. Peeples of Milano, and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Lindholm of Austin.

The single ring ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. F. T. Sager, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church, Rockdale.

The improvised altar before the living room fireplace, was formed by a background of greenery which accented the all-white urn arrangements of ivory gladioli and shasta daisies.

For her wedding the bride wore a dress of aqua lace, the open neck bodice fashioned with a stand-up collar of self-toned linen. Cuffs of the brief sleeves and trim on the gracefully designed skirt were also of white linen. Her white hat, sprinkled with irridescent sequins, was veil draped. White gloves, patent slippers and bag complemented the ensemble. She wore a corsage of orchid carnations.

Following the ceremony, which was attended by the immediate family, a number of close friends were ivited for an informal reception. The dining table was covered with cloth of lace and held a center arrangement of white gladioli and greenery. The wedding cake, a lovely confection embossed in white rosebuds with delicate green foliage, was served with coffee.

The bride, after graduating from Milano High School, attended Lon Morris College at Jacksonville, later going to Austin where she completed a course at Nixon-Clay Business College. For some time she has held a position in the Texas Highway Department at Austin.

Mr. Lindholm is associated with the Stelfox Company at Austin. On their return from a trip to San Antonio the couple will continue to make Austin their home.

The First Baptist Church lawn was the scene of a merry farewell party Saturday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. Wells Smith. About fifty-five of their church friends gathered to tell them "good-bye."

The featured entertainment of the evening was a mock television show, "Goodbye to the Smiths" written by Lu Wane Asher. The plot gave a brief, humorous resume of the Smiths' life from their courtship until the present day. Taking part in the program were Tommy Chamberlain, Jimmie Rae Colburn, Rosemary Jones, Donald Rose, Billy Newton, Elizabeth Newton, Joy Anthony, Edmond Anthony, Jimmie Asher, and Lu Wane Asher.

A book to be kept by the Smiths was passed among the guests who each wrote a farewell message. The Smiths received a gift of colored aluminum tumblers was a going away present from the Youth Fellowship. Mrs. Smith has been active in Youth work at the church for several years.

A long refreshment table, holding arrangements of zinnias, daisies, and marigolds, had been set up on the church lawn. Guests were served from trays containing many varieties of tiny sandwiches, pickles, and potato chips. Fruit punch was provided in a large glass punch bowl. Mr. and Mrs. North, who prepared the refreshments, were assisted in serving by Miss Mary Fanning and Mrs. Jimmie Asher.

Mr.and Mrs. Smith will leave by June 16 for Temple where he will assume his new position as Water Superintendent for the Temple Water Department.

LET HER DRIVE IT TOO!

You'll learn that Oldsmobile has a double appeal—to men and women alike. She's probably told you already how she loves Oldsmobile's long, sweeping lines and luxurious Custom-Lounge interiors. But at the wheel she'll discover that this big, powerful car is as obedient to her light touch as to yours—with Power Steering* and Power Brakes* taking the work out of driving. Come in soon. Discover the double appeal of Oldsmobile . . . together!
